Cusco, Sacred Valley & Machu Picchu – 3 Days

3 days / 2 nights Max. 10 people Cusco

From US$490 · per person

OVERVIEW

Cusco, Sacred Valley & Machu Picchu – 3 Days

Three days that cover the essentials: Cusco city tour, the Sacred Valley of the Incas and a guided visit to Machu Picchu, with trains and tickets included.

The Cusco tour is perfect for those arriving in the city who want to explore it up close. It begins at 1:00 p.m. at our office, followed by a 10-minute walk to Koricancha, where a specialized guide will explain its significance. Then, we'll take a bus to Sacsayhuamán, known for its impressive Inca stonework.

We'll continue to the Qenqo caves, a site for Inca rituals, and then visit Pucapucara, an ancient checkpoint. Finally, we'll explore Tambomachay, famous for its water fountains. We return to Cusco around 6:00 p.m. This tour provides a comprehensive view of Cusco's history and is ideal for acclimatizing to the altitude.

Train Journey to Aguas Calientes: Experience an unforgettable train ride from Ollantaytambo to Aguas Calientes, passing through the majestic Urubamba Canyon.

What to pack

Detailed Packing List for the Cusco, Sacred Valley, and Machu Picchu Tour

Original Passport: Absolutely necessary for entry to Machu Picchu; carry it with you at all times.

Original Student Card: If you've requested a student discount, make sure to bring your original student card for validation.

Small Backpack: Ideal for carrying essentials during the tour, such as water, snacks, and personal items.

Warm Jacket or Coat: The weather in the Andes is unpredictable; bring something warm, especially for cold mornings and nights.

T-Shirts: Two t-shirts for the two days will suffice, but if you sweat a lot, consider bringing an extra.

Comfortable Shoes: Footwear with good traction, such as sneakers or hiking boots, is essential for walking at archaeological sites.

Rain Poncho: The Andean weather can change suddenly, and a poncho is useful in case of rain.

Reusable Water Bottle: Stay hydrated throughout the day by bringing your own bottle to reduce plastic use.

Insect Repellent: To protect yourself from insects, especially in areas like Aguas Calientes.

Sunscreen: The altitude increases sun intensity, even on cloudy days, so applying sunscreen is crucial.

Cap or Hat: Helps protect your head and face from the sun.

Sunglasses: To shield your eyes from the bright sunlight at high altitudes.

Camera: Don't forget your camera or phone with enough charge to capture the stunning views of Machu Picchu.

Water and Snacks: Bring some light snacks to consume during the tour, as opportunities to buy food may be limited.

Cash in Peruvian Soles: For purchasing souvenirs, food, or tips, carry some cash in the local currency.

This list ensures you are prepared for any weather changes and can enjoy a comfortable experience during your visit to the Sacred Valley and Machu Picchu.
