OVERVIEW

Cusco South Valley Tour: Tipón, Pikillacta & Andahuaylillas

Half-day South Valley tour: the Inca water gardens of Tipón, the Wari city of Pikillacta and Andahuaylillas, the “Sistine Chapel of the Americas”.

Immerse yourself in the stunning landscapes and extraordinary archaeological sites of the Southern Valley, located just outside Cusco. This tour offers you the opportunity to witness the intricate blend of Andean culture and Spanish influences in the region.

Our journey begins at the Church of San Pedro in Andahuaylillas, also known as the “Sistine Chapel of America.” This architectural gem is renowned for its impressive religious murals, exquisite Baroque-style paintings, gilded frames, and anonymous works from the Cusco School that captivate visitors with their artistic excellence.

Next, we will head to Pikillacta, where you will marvel at the sophisticated urban planning of an ancient society. With over a thousand structures, including temples, colcas (storage buildings), and multi-story residential buildings, this site of the Wari culture reflects an advanced civilization.
